

ANSC*4260 Beef Cattle Nutrition

Winter 2021

Section(s): C01

Department of Animal Biosciences

Credit Weight: 0.50

Version 1.00 - January 11, 2021

1 Course Details

1.1 Calendar Description

This course is designed for students to evaluate problems in feeding beef cattle. Relevant aspects of digestion and metabolism of nutrients as well as current issues of feeding beef cattle and diagnosing nutritional deficiencies will be included.

Pre-Requisites: ANSC*3120

1.2 Course Description

This course is designed for students to gain knowledge and address challenges in beef cattle production. Relevant aspects of digestion, metabolism of nutrients, diagnosing nutritional deficiencies, as well as current issues feeding cows, replacement heifers, and growing and finishing cattle will be addressed in the course

1.3 Timetable

This course is being offered in the synchronous delivery (recorded) format.

Please see WebAdvisor for the latest information and information and links to lectures

Lecture: M W 11:30 am -12:20 pm will be delivered live via the Zoom platform and recordings posted following lecture

Students are should login to Zoom using their U of G account for security purposes. These live lectures will be recorded and links to the recordings will be available via the "lecture recordings" tab on Courselink. Note that recording links take about 24h to become available on the Zoom cloud and therefore will be delayed about 24 hours from the live lecture.

Lab: T 1:00 -3:50pm will be delivered live via the Zoom platform and recordings posted following lecture. Please see Courselink for lab schedule

Note that to ensure security on the platform the Zoom links will be changing periodically throughout the course, so please follow Courselink links to access live lectures and or lab sessions

Students are highly encouraged to attend live lecture and participate in discussions and polls

In the event of technical difficulties during the live lecture (Internet, Zoom outages, etc.) the lecture will be recorded and made available for students as soon as possible. Students will be responsible for viewing the lecture recording on their own time, ideally before the next scheduled class day. Timetable is subject to change. Please see WebAdvisor for the latest information

1.4 Final Exam

Date: Tues. April 27, 2020

Time: 7:00-9:00 pm

Location:TBD

Exam time and location is subject to change. Please see WebAdvisor for the latest information.

1. Understand the fundamentals of beef cattle production and nutrition and identify the major challenges and opportunities within this industry
 2. Interpret scientific data/concepts/findings using quantitative, qualitative and analytical methods and effectively communicate those findings to a lay audience.
 3. Understand nutritional requirements of beef cattle, identify factors influencing requirements, and demonstrate knowledge of strategies to meet these requirements.
 4. Critically evaluate production practices and feeding programs in beef cattle production and make recommendations for improved production.
 5. Use mathematical models to estimate TDN, feed intake, and basic nutrient requirements of cattle for growth and performance using equations and formulation software
 6. Understand the impacts of diet and nutrition in animal health, performance, and disease

5 Teaching and Learning Activities

5.1 Lecture

Topics:

Lecture Content (in order of delivery):

- Structure of the Canadian Beef Industry
- Anatomy and Physiology of the bovine digestive system
- Rumen fermentation
- Fibre digestion
- Postruminal digestion
- Energy metabolism
- Protein Metabolism
- Feeds and feed processing
- Feeding and feed analysis
- Vitamin and mineral nutrition
- Cow/calf and heifer nutritional requirements
- Background cattle

- Forages and pastures
- Feedlot Nutrition
- Rumen dysfunction
- Implants and feed additives
- Alternative feeds and feeding strategies
- Meat quality and grading

There will also be a number of guest lectures in this course. All material presented in class (including those from guest lecture) is considered testable material

5.2 Labs

Lab Schedule:

Jan 12: Virtual Field Trip- OBRC (posted online- watch on own time)

Jan 19: Lecture/Lab - Alternative Feeds Assignment

Jan 26: Lecture/Lab

Feb 2: Lecture/Feed Sheet Assignment

Feb 9: Lecture/Lab

Feb 16: READING WEEK

Feb 23: Virtual Tours Watch Party

Feb 25: Lecture/Lab

Mar 2: Case Study Assignment Lab

Mar 9: Lecture/Lab

Mar 16: Lecture/Lab

Mar 23: Lecture/Case Study Drop-In help with TAs

Mar 30: Lecture/Case Study Drop-in help with TAs

April 6: No Lab

Note: All dates are tentative, please see courselink for any changes to lab schedule.

Labs are set up to continue lecture material and add supporting learning activities. Some lab lectures will be guest speakers and the schedule is TBD. All material presented by guest speakers is considered testable material.

The virtual tours watch party, is an opportunity to view video tours of farms and stop for live commentary or discussion. This is also a chance to show off your farm ! If you would like to give a virtual tour of your beef operation for the class, please contact the TAs or the instructor

The case study project may be completed individually or in pairs. Details will be provided on assignment sheet posted on Courselink the week after winter break. Students will be required to use the Cowbytes program to complete this project (which uses a windows based software), Please ensure you have computer capabilities to complete this assignment

Online Quizzes to be completed online via Courselink.

7 Course Statements

7.1 Grading Policies

Completion of both examinations (midterm and final) and the case study assignment is required to receive credit for the course. The course will follow Undergraduate Grading Procedures found under Grades for VIII. Undergraduate Degree regulations and Procedures in the 2020-2021 undergraduate calendar.

Exam questions will be based ENTIRELY on the lectures and lab materials. The format of the exam will include short and long answer questions. Students may require a basic calculator for the quizzes/exams, however cellular phones will not be permitted as a calculator. For students who have missed an exam, we reserve the right to change the format of the exam for students who miss the scheduled midterm and final.

Assignments are to be submitted online via Courselink Dropbox

Course policy regarding late submission of projects/assignments: there are assigned due dates for students to hand in the major project. Marks will be deducted for late assignments with a 10%-mark reduction for every day the assignment is not handed in. Students will receive a zero for the assignment if the assignment has not been handed in within 7 days after the due date has passed, unless there are extenuating circumstances.

Any re-grading of assignments will be done by the course instructor and the whole assignment will be reassessed. Therefore the grade may increase, decrease, or stay the same, and the re-grade will be considered a final decision. Re-grading of midterm questions can be submitted to the instructor, by highlighting the question to be regraded. This must be done before the last class day. Note: only questions written in pen can be submitted for regrading.

7.2 Course Policy regarding use of electronic devices and recording of Lectures

Electronic recording of classes is expressly forbidden without consent of the instructor. This includes photography of course materials and lecture slides. When recordings are permitted they are solely for the use of the authorized student and may not be reproduced, or transmitted to others, without the express written consent of the instructor.

7.3 Course Policy on Group Work

Students are expected to work individually on all quizzes and assignments, with the exception of the case study assignment, which may be completed in pairs or as an individual. Partner conflicts must be addressed in writing to the course instructors within 24h of the due project date.

7.4 Online Behaviour

The course website is considered the classroom and the same protections, expectations, guidelines, and regulations used in face-to-face settings apply. Inappropriate online behaviour will not be tolerated. Examples of inappropriate online behaviour include:

- Posting inflammatory messages about your instructor or fellow students

- Using obscene or offensive language online

- Copying or presenting someone else's work as your own

- Adapting information from the Internet without using proper citations or references

- Buying or selling term papers or assignments

- Posting or selling course materials to course notes websites

- Having someone else complete your quiz or completing a quiz for/with another student

- Stating false claims about lost quiz answers or other assignment submissions
- Threatening or harassing a student or instructor online
- Discriminating against fellow students, instructors and/or TAs
- Using the course website to promote profit-driven products or services
- Attempting to compromise the security or functionality of the learning management system
- Sharing your user name and password
- Recording lectures without the permission of the instructor

Students are highly encouraged to participate in online classes and labs via the chat function. Please keep the chat focused on course materials. The instructor and the TAs reserve the right to remove students from class or lab if they are being disruptive to the learning environment

7.5 Dropbox Submissions

Assignments should be submitted electronically via the online Dropbox tool. When submitting your assignments using the Dropbox tool, do not leave the page until your assignment has successfully uploaded. To verify that your submission was complete, you can view the submission history immediately after the upload to see which files uploaded successfully. The system will also email you a receipt. Save this email receipt as proof of submission.

Be sure to keep a back-up copy of all of your assignments in the event that they are lost in transition. In order to avoid any last-minute computer problems, your instructor strongly recommend you save your assignments to a cloud-based file storage (e.g., OneDrive), or send to your email account, so that should something happen to your computer, the assignment could still be submitted on time or re-submitted.

It is your responsibility to submit your assignments on time as specified on the Schedule. Be sure to check the technical requirements and make sure you have the proper computer, that you have a supported browser, and that you have reliable Internet access. Remember that technical difficulty is not an excuse not to turn in your assignment on time. Don't wait until the last minute as you may get behind in your work.

If, for some reason, you have a technical difficulty when submitting your assignment electronically, please contact your instructor or CourseLink Support.

8 University Statements

8.1 Email Communication

As per university regulations, all students are required to check their e-mail account regularly: e-mail is the official route of communication between the University and its students.

8.2 When You Cannot Meet a Course Requirement

When you find yourself unable to meet an in-course requirement because of illness or compassionate reasons please advise the course instructor (or designated person, such as a teaching assistant) in writing, with your name, id#, and e-mail contact. The grounds for Academic Consideration are detailed in the Undergraduate and Graduate Calendars.

Associate Diploma Calendar - Academic Consideration, Appeals and Petitions

<https://www.uoguelph.ca/registrar/calendars/diploma/current/index.shtml>

8.3 Drop Date

Students will have until the last day of classes to drop courses without academic penalty. The deadline to drop two-semester courses will be the last day of classes in the second semester. This applies to all students (undergraduate, graduate and diploma) except for Doctor of Veterinary Medicine and Associate Diploma in Veterinary Technology (conventional and alternative delivery) students. The regulations and procedures for course registration are available in their respective Academic Calendars.

8.4 Copies of Out-of-class Assignments

Keep paper and/or other reliable back-up copies of all out-of-class assignments: you may be asked to resubmit work at any time.

8.5 Accessibility

The University promotes the full participation of students who experience disabilities in their academic programs. To that end, the provision of academic accommodation is a shared responsibility between the University and the student.

When accommodations are needed, the student is required to first register with Student Accessibility Services (SAS). Documentation to substantiate the existence of a disability is required; however, interim accommodations may be possible while that process is underway.

Accommodations are available for both permanent and temporary disabilities. It should be noted that common illnesses such as a cold or the flu do not constitute a disability.

Use of the SAS Exam Centre requires students to book their exams at least 7 days in advance and not later than the 40th Class Day.

For Guelph students, information can be found on the SAS website

<https://www.uoguelph.ca/sas>

For Ridgetown students, information can be found on the Ridgetown SAS website

<https://www.ridgetownc.com/services/accessibilityservices.cfm>

8.6 Academic Integrity

The University of Guelph is committed to upholding the highest standards of academic integrity, and it is the responsibility of all members of the University community-faculty, staff, and students-to be aware of what constitutes academic misconduct and to do as much as possible to prevent academic offences from occurring. University of Guelph students have the responsibility of abiding by the University's policy on academic misconduct regardless of their location of study; faculty, staff, and students have the responsibility of supporting an environment that encourages academic integrity. Students need to remain aware that instructors have access to and the right to use electronic and other means of detection.

Please note: Whether or not a student intended to commit academic misconduct is not relevant for a finding of guilt. Hurried or careless submission of assignments does not excuse students from responsibility for verifying the academic integrity of their work before submitting it. Students who are in any doubt as to whether an action on their part could be construed as an academic offence should consult with a faculty member or faculty advisor.

8.7 Recording of Materials

Presentations that are made in relation to course work - including lectures - cannot be recorded or copied without the permission of the presenter, whether the instructor, a student, or guest lecturer. Material recorded with permission is restricted to use for that course unless further permission is granted.

8.8 Resources

The Academic Calendars are the source of information about the University of Guelph's procedures, policies, and regulations that apply to undergraduate, graduate, and diploma programs.

Academic Calendars

8.9 Disclaimer

Please note that the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic may necessitate a revision of the format of course offerings and academic schedules. Any such changes will be announced via CourseLink and/or class email. All University-wide decisions will be posted on the COVID-19 website (<https://news.uoguelph.ca/2019-novel-coronavirus-information/>) and circulated by email.

8.10 Illness

The University will not normally require verification of illness (doctor's notes) for fall 2020 or winter 2021 semester courses. However, requests for Academic Consideration may still require medical documentation as appropriate.
